VALTUS EXPANDS TO ALL FIVE CONTINENTS WITH A NEW PARTNER IN SOUTH AFRICA

Valtus Alliance is expanding its global footprint with the addition of a new partner in Cape Town, South Africa: Talent Network Global. With this new partnership, the Alliance is now present on all five continents and across 29 countries, marking a significant milestone in its international development.

Africa: a fast-growing strategic market

Africa's economy continues to gain momentum. The continent's GDP was estimated at $2.8 trillion in 2025, and investment in the region is rising sharply. Foreign direct investment reached a record $97 billion in 2024 — a 75% increase — even as global investment flows declined.

This growth is being driven by sectors such as renewable energy, technology, business services, financial services, infrastructure and consumer goods — industries where strong leadership is critical. As multinational companies expand across African markets, they increasingly need experienced executives who can open new markets, lead transformation projects, integrate acquisitions and build local teams.

In this context, Executive Interim Management allows companies to quickly bring in senior leadership to support key phases of growth and transformation.

South Africa plays a central role in this landscape. As one of the continent's most diversified and internationally connected economies, it often serves as a gateway for organisations establishing or expanding their presence across Africa.

Beyond its role as a continental hub, South Africa also represents a strategic corridor for key global economies with a long-standing tradition of engagement in the region — including China, the USA, the UK, Germany, the Netherlands, Japan and India. Significantly, these countries are all represented within Valtus Alliance, enabling seamless cross-border collaboration and reinforcing the Alliance's ability to support internationally connected organisations operating across these markets.

Talent Network Global, in association with Nolands Advisory, is a boutique Executive Search and Interim Management firm headquartered in Cape Town.
